

Chapter 5: Laying Down the Serpent

Theme: Letting go of how we view ourselves to live according to how God made us.

Reflect on the lies that might be lurking within. In the space around the serpent write different aspects of your personality, your identity, and how you are (or may be) called by name. Inside the serpent, write ways that you live your identity outside of God's purposes in fear, hiding, doubt, or a desire for comfort for yourself.
